WINE RETURNS

UPON RECEIPT OF ORDER

At Morlet Family Vineyards, we craft ultra-premium wines, following a strict attention to detail and no compromise with regard to quality. Thus, only a small amount of each label is produced. By securing our wines from our online offerings, wine connoisseurs receive their wines from the production source, securing authenticity and controlled shipping conditions. Providing customer service that matches the high level of our wines is a main priority. Therefore, if you are dissatisfied with your order for any reason, please call the winery within five days of receipt of your order to file a claim. The winery reserves the right to either replace the bottles or issue a refund. The original order will be returned to the winery.

CORKED OR OFF BOTTLES

Morlet Family Vineyards utilizes the highest quality of corks from only the best supplier in Portugal. Our corks are 54mm in length and are hand-sorted three times by our supplier. Beginning with the 2014 vintage of our Cabernet Sauvignons and the 2015 vintage of our other varietals, our winery has been using the innovated One by One™ gas phase spectroscopy which allows each cork to be tested individually prior to being branded with our winery's logo. Further, our winemaking team implements their own quality control measures. Although extremely rare, you may at one time experience a corked or otherwise "off" bottle. Please keep the remainder of the wine in the bottle along with the cork, and call the winery by the next business day. As long as we can verify that the bottle was purchased directly from the winery, we will make arrangements to have the bottle picked up and returned to the winery. This allows us to test the cork and wine to determine what occurred. We will then ship you a replacement bottle of the same label at no additional cost to you. Due to the limited nature of our wines, we are often not able to provide the exact vintage. As your replacement, we will ship either the current release vintage, or offer any library vintages if available, from which you may choose.

THIRD-PARTY PURCHASES

We will not refund or replace any bottles of our wine that were purchased through an online retailer or auction house, or via any other third-party channel, as we cannot verify the authenticity, or whether the wine was properly transported or stored over time.
